The Breeder's Live Stock Journal is before us. It is truly a very interesting periodical and should be more generally patronized by Stock growers if they wish to improve the production of their stock. Per year $1 We will furnish it a year and the UNION one Vol. of 13 numbers, for $1.25.

Mrs. Richard Bently passed off this stage of existence on the morning of the 6th inst. after a lingering illness. The burial took place on the 7th. She leaves a husband and family and numerous relatives and friends to mourn her loss. She was much respected by all who knew her as she was a true Latter-day Saint.

Take Warning! A man who will swindle the printer will swindle any one else, and we warn all persons not to trust a short, dark complected man, styling himself Signor Martel, the Great Italian Magician. His handbills are still in our possession and he has not kept his promise. A word to the wise is sufficient.

It is a principle that all lovers of Home Industry should put in practice—to patronize our Home Institutions, and by way of calling your attention to the fact, we remind all who have any use for jars, teapots, or pottery ware of almost any kind, that they can get a first class article as cheap as is compatible with the situation of the country, as you can ask for, from John Eardly. See adv.

Careless Shooting. It is surprising that so many persons in this city have such poor judgement, or a thoughtless cranium, as to have the audacity to discharge firearms within the limits of our city. Frequently the bullets from discharged fire-arms whistle past our office, and sometimes cut very close to people's heads, endangering their lives. Such doings are a nuisance and should be stopped somehow; but who, in the vicinity of the shooting, has the manhood to have the offenders prosecuted?

One of the most beautiful scenes we ever gazed upon, was the aurora borealis on Friday evening, the 17th ult. Streamers of light extended up to the middle of the heavens in various parts of the horizon. One great peculiarity on that evening was the intense bloody appearance of a portion of the lights, and this red hue remained during the period of the aurora borealis.

On the 19th ult., at 5 a. m. the lights were visible again, but not so beautiful nor red, as those which appeared on the 17th, yet bright streamers illumined the sky and lit up the horizon so it was grand.

If you have any trunks to be repaired or want a new one made, just give David Needham a call. He can fit you out in first class style.
